Accident coverage can protect your whole family

A voluntary accident plan offers coverage for accidental injuries and accidental death in addition to your primary medical insurance. It's also available to your spouse and dependent children - a plan that can protect your whole family.

Why do I need accident coverage?

Here are a few facts to consider from the National Center for Health Statistics*:

- Sports activities and leisure activities together accounted for nearly 40 percent of medically-attended episodes of injury, and the most common place of injury was in or around the home.
- Falls are the leading external cause of non-fatal injury.
- Injuries due to motor vehicle traffic accidents, overexertion and strenuous movements, and striking against or being struck accidentally by objects also make up a large portion of injuries.

What does accident coverage do?

Accident insurance provides you with valuable accidental death and dismemberment coverage as well as any optional benefits offered by your employer. Depending on the plan, features may include:

- Accident Only Medical Expense: pays actual charges, up to the maximum amount selected, for physician treatment in an office, clinic or emergency room for an accidental injury
- Hospital Admission: pays a defined benefit once annually for hospital admission due to an injury sustained in a covered accident
- Others may include benefits for hospital ICU, and specific sums for bone fracture & dislocation

Protect your financial security

Payroll deduction makes it easy for you to pay for accident coverage. You'll feel good knowing benefits are paid up to the plan amount selected, in addition to any other coverage you may have.
